CSL Therapy Sets Standard for Foundational Courses in Body Altering Aesthetics

[USA National Release, March 1, 2024] - CSL Therapy Organization, the leading authority in the Body Altering Aesthetics industry, is proud to announce its stance on the importance of accredited Foundational Courses in the certification process. The organization emphasizes the critical distinction between Foundational Courses and Supplemental Courses, highlighting their significance in ensuring the highest standards of care and competency among professionals.

Foundational Courses, accredited by CSL Therapy Organization, are designed to provide theory competencies and skill sets essential for practitioners in the Body Altering Aesthetics field. These courses are recognized for their comprehensive curriculum, which equips professionals with the knowledge and expertise to deliver optimal care to clients post-surgery. Accredited Foundational Courses are written for professionals to not only enhance their understanding but also mitigate the risk of negligence, incompetency, and malpractice throughout the industry.

"While non-Board Certified students may sit for National Exams, we cannot guarantee their preparedness solely based on Supplemental Courses," stated Tia Keels, Advisory Member of the American Council of Body Altering Aesthetics at CSL Therapy Organization. "Foundational Courses serve as the cornerstone of our certification process, ensuring that professionals possess the necessary information and skills to provide superior care and pass industry exams with competence and confidence."

In contrast to Foundational Courses, taught by BAA licensed professionals, Supplemental Courses while lacking key fundamental healthcare basics of anatomy and physiology, practice limitations, or comprehensive concepts, they often focus on more detailed skill sets that narrow in and, well, supplement the acumen of Foundational Courses.

CSL Therapy Organization remains steadfast in its commitment to upholding the highest standards of care in the Body Altering Aesthetics industry. In prioritizing accredited Foundational Courses, the organization aims to bridge gaps in aesthetic healthcare, elevate industry standards, and ultimately provide clients with safer and more effective treatments.
